Detail Action

This office action is responsive to the amendment filed on August 8, 2006.

Rejection Under 35 U.S. C. 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

Claims 1-8 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the enablement requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to enable one skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and/or use the invention. The independent claims 1, 17 and 20, now recite that the “eccentricity correction data is recorded in a user data recording area in the same way as handling of the user data”. However, applicant fails to describe in the specification the ways of handling of the user data and which way is “the same way”.

2. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

Claims 1-8 and 17-20 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

In the claims 1-8 and 17-20 the phrase “in the same way as handling of the user data” is vague and indefinite, because claimed language does not define what are the ways of handling the user data, and which way is the same.

Furthermore, although claims 1 and 17 are method claims, there is no method steps recited in the claims. Similarly, although claim 20 is an apparatus claim to record and reproduce information, no structural elements to record and reproduce the information is defined.

Response to Remarks

Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-8 and 17-20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.
